Viva Reiwa, viva Takehisa!
Reiwa is an era name of the new emperor Naruhito.

Yaxell TAKEHISA features 211 - layers Damascus blade with geometric pattern and beautiful black beech Pakka Wood handle with traditional Japanese Samurai family crest. The cutting core is made of special Micro-Carbide powder steel ZDP 189, which could reach extremely high hardness - 66 Rockwell, enables to take and hold a particularly well cutting performance. Four Japanese Kanji characters are hand-engraved on the front side of the blade which means "Takehisa - the Samurai Spirit". Our initial offering includes four traditional Japanese culinary blade shapes.

YAXELL KETU knives are made of 3 layered stainless steel blade with powdered steel SG2 cutting core and elegant black beech Pakka Wood handle with Japanese Samurai family crest on it. On the end cap of the knife, unlike traditional stamping logo, a convex Yaxell kanji logo is added beautifully. Also artistic hammer pattern is stamped on the blade. Under a special heat treatment process, the blade of SG2 steel is able to reach the hardness up to 63 HRC. Enjoy your cooking with Yaxell Ketu knives with an exceptional long-lasting sharpness.

ZEN
37 Layers

膳 ZEN is a registered trade mark of Yaxell Corporation. This word means 'the most healthy meals' in Japanese.

Blade:

The value Damascus knife was developed to meet the increasing market demand of "JAPAN FANS" in world markets. The core material is VG10 "super stainless steel", which is covered by 18 layers of soft and hard high-carbon stainless steel on each side, producing 37-layer, rust-resistant Damascus-blade. The hammer marks on the upper part of the blade make it look very artistic. Further, the logo is stamped, not etched. Of course the blade has an extremely sharp cutting edge with the hardness rating of HRC61 on the Rockwell scale.

37 layers VG 10 (Cobalt-Molybdenum-Vanadium) Stainless Steel

Handle:

The handle is made out of FDA-approved black Canvas-Micarta, which is an enormously solid and durable material made out of resin and linen. This material lasts decades. Different from other materials, it is non-shrink and odorless. It is polished perfectly and fastened tightly by two stainless steel rivets.
